

Go abroad and develop yourself with Abroad Consulting in Malta!

Mediterranean climate? Check! Beautiful old cities? Check! Cute dogs? Check! Beaches all around and friendly locals? Double check! Please feel yourself very much invited to the island of Malta! Malta's location in the middle of the Mediterranean has historically given it great strategic importance as a naval base. Being inhabited from around 5200 BC, the island state has a rich history. One of the main advantages to Malta when it comes to doing an internship or student exchange, is that English is an official language of the country. For the same reason, many language schools can be found! Who would not enjoy learning English in such a good climate (sorry UK ☺)! In Malta we are present in St. Julians, a city on the northern coast known for tourism-oriented businesses, and in Sliema, another coastal city which has a more commercial orientation.
